

BRITISH LABOR PERSONALITIES
Britain's Labor party which swept Churchill out of office is a strange mixture, resembles the liberal branch of the Democratic party more than any Socialist movement. It has its liberal and its conservative wings, has had no labor troubles similar to ours during the past decade.

Clement Attlee, Britain's new prime minister, is a poor man. . . . He was little known among the fashionable people of England until 1935 when his salary was raised to 2,000 pounds a year. . . . After getting this pay boost, Mrs. Attlee was able to venture into society for the first time, was able to start playing golf, hire enough help to keep her home going. . . . Attlee likes to putter in his garden, do odd jobs around the house, constantly puffs a pipe, is a sharp contrast to fiery, charming Ramsey MacDonald, England's last Labor prime minister. . . . Attlee is no forthright leader, is considered more of an impartial middle man, will have all he can do to keep peace within his own widely split party.

Attlee's greatest rivals for power inside the party are paunchy, jovial Herbert Morrison and hard-headed, deep-voiced, testy Ernest Bevin. . . . Morrison lost his right eye when he was three days old, has had a "leftish" outlook ever since. . . . Morrison has played runner-up to Attlee in many elections, carries on constant behind-the-scenes warfare with Bevin. . . . Bevin had the same war job which Sidney Hillman took over in the OPM after Pearl Harbor—handling labor relations. However, Bevin made a better go of it, fought grimly and successfully for better rations for workers. . . . Morrison is a cockney, has a spry sense of humor, likes to dance, is head of the Labor party in politically potent London. He is also a man of daring, had the ancient tradition-encrusted Waterloo bridge torn down because he found it unserviceable, afterward had traffic rolling more smoothly through the center of London. . . . Morrison is a hard ruler.

Bevin—Union Boss.

Ernie Bevin is a hard-headed union boss. . . . He hates dictatorships but is a dictator in his own union, the giant transport workers. . . . Bevin runs his own union like John L. Lewis runs the mine workers. . . . Outside his union, however, Bevin's labor practices are more like those of Sidney Hillman and Phillip Murray. . . . He believes in negotiation rather than strikes. Bevin took a bad trouncing from Winston Churchill in 1926, has never forgiven the ex-prime minister. It was Bevin who called the 1926 general strike in England, a strike which Churchill dealt a shattering blow. . . . Bevin is a forthright anti-Fascist, was against Hitler, Mussolini and the Cliveden set from their inception, was responsible for the tough-minded position his party took internationally from 1933 to the outbreak of war. . . . As leader of the transport workers, Bevin controls considerable of the Labor party, is rough on his enemies, gruff with his friends, loses his patience frequently.

To get feminine support, the new labor government will lean heavily on a red-headed fiery labor M. P., Ellen Wilkinson. . . . Miss Wilkinson is at home in a fight, knows the world, has contempt for Britain's colonial policies, is a scrapper from the word go. . . . She knows about riots and bloodshed first hand, was in the thick of the black and tan trouble in Ireland, even led hunger marchers on London during the depression. . . . Miss Wilkinson lives in the Bohemian Bloomsbury section of London surrounded by poets, painters, actors and writers; has persuaded many of them to pitch into labor's fight. . . . Blunt and forthright, Miss Wilkinson was the first member of parliament to defend King Edward's marrying American-born Wallis Simpson. . . . In one speech she said, "We say that if a woman is good-enough to be a man's wife, she is good enough to take her side by him as his equal in whatever rank of life intended."

Another powerful figure in the new Attlee government will be tall, spare hard-headed Arthur Greenwood, recently minister of postwar reconstruction. . . . Greenwood was responsible for what little slum clearance the MacDonald government undertook. . . . A member of Churchill's cabinet, Greenwood never was known as a radical or a great liberal, is a seasoned bureaucrat, knows his way around government, is an able talker.

CAPITAL CHAFF

Nelson Rockefeller recently asked for an appointment with Cordell Hull, but Hull refused to see him. Hull is a bitter-ender regarding Argentina, and it was Rockefeller who largely paved the way for Argentine recognition.

Mrs. "Hope Diamond" McLean, mother-in-law of Sen. Bob Reynolds whom the Scripps Howard papers have been exposing, is making a play for new members of the Truman cabinet. Some of them have been inveigled into her drawing room.

Legion Post Memorializes Lost Flyer

Dedicating Wednesday's meeting of Campbell Post No. 596, American Legion, to the memory of Lt. Paul Farnham, first member of a local legionnaire family to give his life in this war, members stood in silent reverence at the close of the meeting while bugler Ed Lee sounded Taps. A resolution in his honor was presented and adopted, copy of which was to be spread on the minutes and a copy sent to the grieving family.

While the business meeting was in session, a representative of the Legion Auxiliary asked permission to present a check from the ladies to be added to the growing building fund. The check was for one hundred dollars, for which members voiced their thanks with rousing cheers and a voted "thank you."

Virgil Smith, who has supervised the Honor Roll from the beginning to the present, announced it now stood fully completed to date, with nearly one thousand names on the roster.

Bill Weeks regretted he had no immediate prospects of another "Sons of the Legion" but compromised on a grand daughter-of-legionnaire. The event occurred the past week and "grandpa" is quite jubilant. Commander Mitchell relieved some of his enthusiasm and pocketbook, with a consequent addition to the building fund.

Adjutant Henry C. Jensen had been called to San Diego earlier in the week on account of the death of his brother. Flowers were ordered sent for the funeral and a note of sympathy from the members.

A communication from the Kiwanis Club asked that their Boys' State check, which was not used, be converted into a war bond and presented the elected boy.

In the interest of the high school cadet corps, Major Richard Fields was present and spoke interestingly of this movement and the part the legion could play in popularizing this corps. Members promised him whole-hearted support and cooperation. Major Fields pointed out that this state program is to prepare the high school boys to care for themselves, and includes physical education, first aid and drill. With the opening of the fall semester, a competent instructor will be available and the program instituted.

Ens. Francis Smith Home On Leave

Ensign Francis W. Smith, 21, USNR, Route 2, Campbell, pilot of a Wildcat fighter, has returned to the States on leave after 35 missions with Composite Squadron 91 in the Lingayen Gulf and Okinawa campaigns. Ens. Smith graduated from Campbell Union High school in 1941.

The fliers, who dubbed themselves the "Green Wein-er" squadron, amassed 9,100 air combat hours and flew 2,750 individual sorties during the two operations. Bombing accuracy of squadron 91 permitted the sharpshooters to blast Jap strongholds only 200 yards ahead of advancing 10th Army forces.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat Town Meeting

American Expression of Popular Government.

Speaker Discusses Returning Veteran At Club Meeting

Lt. Commander Hal Hallin was presented by Clarence Nelson, chairman, at Tuesday's Kiwanis luncheon. Hallin's topic was "What the returning Veteran can expect by way of assistance from the Government."

A very informative discussion setting forth the various types of assistance both financial and educational, offered our returning Veterans was given by the speaker interspersed with personal experiences in dealing with service men under his command. He stressed the fact that contrary to popular belief, the average returning Veteran is just a normal American boy, who, in the opinion of the speaker, will profit greatly by his experience in the service and no doubt will have very definite ideas as to what future course he will pursue.

Visitors were Earl King, Bob Shucking and Rev. Robert Carlson.

Ladies Night next Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. The ladies will conduct the whole meeting as they see fit. O Boy!

Next week Mrs. Wyland R. Morgan will be the chairman and the speaker, Lt. Hefflinger.

Last Rites Held For N. E. Andrews

Funeral services were held Wednesday from the Amos O. Williams parlors for Nobel E. Andrews, husband of Lela Andrews and father of Mrs. Viola Yeager, father-in-law of Daniel Yeager, and grandfather of Pvt. Alson Yeager, A. A. F.

Mr. Andrews, a native of Petaluma, 70 years old, was a member of Friendship Lodge, No. 210, F. and A. M., San Jose Scottish Rite Bodies and Starlight Lodge No. 401 O. E. S. Last services were under auspices of the Masonic orders.

Electric Rates Are Reduced In Campbell Area

A reduction in residential electric rates that will save a total of approximately $820 per year for 172 customers in the recently built-up area adjacent to Campbell is planned by the Pacific Gas and Electric company and the new schedule has been filed with the California Railroad Commission for approval and authorization.

This area formerly had rural electric rates, but has been given the reduction because of a substantial increase in density of population—one of the factors on which zone rates are based. The survey leading to the reduction was made in accordance with a joint program of the P. G. and E. and the Railroad Commission, under which such unincorporated areas are periodically checked to determine if they have grown in population to the point where they are entitled to a lower zone rate.

School to Open September 24

The board of trustees of the Campbell Union High school at its meeting this week set the opening date for the coming school year for September 24, and closing date, June 14.

Teachers institute will be held on November 19, 20 and 21. Other holidays were named: Christmas, Dec. 24 to Jan. 1; February 22, Easter week and May 30.

Miss Helen Murphy, a graduate of the accounting department in 1944 was elected as assistant secretary.

Supt. James W. Dent was authorized to consult the school architect about the new cafeteria for which funds are already available.

Members of Youth Center Enjoy Italian Dinner

Twenty-five members of Campbell's Youth Center had made reservations for an Italian dinner last night at the Costa Hotel in San Jose.

A general membership party for Friday night is scheduled for a swimming session at Woodrow Wilson Junior high school in San Jose. This pool will be used instead of Los Gatos because the water is warmed.

The regular dance will be held Saturday evening at The Roost, which is also open every evening from 7:30 to 10:30 except Sunday.

A future attraction will be a trip through the observatory at Santa Clara University arranged by County Clerk Albert Newlin, who is on the observatory staff.

This will be a smaller high point group, but other trips are in prospect for more groups.

The members of the Center and their director, Jimmy Glynn wish to publicly express their sincere thanks to Nelson Brothers Grain company, whose generous use of their trucks makes these out-of-town good times possible.

The night of the swimming party the newly organized basketball team will practice in the Woodrow Wilson gym. Constituting the team are John Talia, chairman; Merrill Grim, captain; Dewey Kosich, co-captain; Reg Gatzay, Frank (Red Wolf) Livingston; Wayne Buck, Bill Harrison, George Gleed, Larry Lewis, Paul Meyer, Bud Whitmore and Frank Smith.

Donald Snow who is acting as coach, was a successful player and popular with his team.

Brothers Win War Awards

Two Campbell brothers, Pfc. George W. Petty and Pvt. Wilmer Petty, have both been decorated for service during the Allied campaign in Europe. They are the sons of Mrs. George Petty, Route 2, Box 663.

George was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in combat from July 4, 1944, to May 2, 1945, in the Italian campaign. His citation declared that he was a "dependable, tireless driver" throughout the time his unit participated in the Italian campaign. "A great deal of his driving was reconnoitering for supply routes over unknown, unswept roads often under enemy artillery and sniper fire. Although he realized many times the hazardous nature of his work, he loyally and without question performed the missions."

Wilmer was wounded in the invasion of France, and also later in Germany. For his wounds he received the Purple Heart with one cluster.

Pvt. Harry J. Coke, brother of Elsie Corbal of Campbell, has been awarded the Purple Heart, the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Good Conduct Medal. Overseas 32 months, Coke is serving with the 281st Military Police company in the Mediterranean Theater.

Girls Attend Camp Wastahi In Big Basin

Forty-two Camp Fire Girls and one counsellor from Campbell attended Camp Wastahi in the Big Basin this Summer. The camp has been enjoyed by Campbell girls along with other girls in Santa Clara county for the past 18 years.

Swimming and woodlanders were reported to be the most popular activities this year. A number of Campbell girls distinguished themselves in these fields. Jean Jensen was one of three girls who passed her test for Flying Fish, an advanced swimming achievement. Girls who won the most coveted honor of being Gypsies, the best and most experienced campers, were Jean Jensen, Joan Sanders and Mildred Weeks.

The most popular hike of the camping period has always been the trip to the Coast when the girls are away from Camp Wastahi three days and two nights. Lorraine Wood, Mildred Weeks, Joan Sanders and Jean Jensen made this trip.

Other girls who attended Camp this summer were Shirley Backich, Louan Brady, Katherine Bower, Louise Burrows, Margaret Cleaveland, Marylou Cline, Alice Ender-ton, Anne Enderton, Mirna Ellison, Barbara Enochs, Dor-ean Frank, Janet Franceschini, Ruthann Hahn, Janis Henley, Winifred Hill, Mar-jorie Hornbuckle, Katherine Jones, Janet James, Wanda Kenney, Irene Kimbriel, Carol Knutson, Barbara Lee, Louise Lobrovich, Loretta McKee, Verna Jean Miller, Carolyn Nichols, Carol Olson, Beatrice Paz, Patty Pomeroy, Patty Powell, Joyce Price, Margaret Robertson, Mardell Sanders, Barbara Sellers, Carol and Gayle Schrader, Maureen Wallis and Myra Jean Van de Mark. Miss Carol Lantz was counsellor of handicraft.

Women to Learn Cheese Making

Would you like to learn how to use that extra milk that does sometimes accumulate and sour on you? Well, here is your chance. If your family likes cheese, the appeal should be even greater.

Campbell High School P.-T. A. study group will meet on August 21, from 10 to 3:30 at the Methodist church for a real cheese-making session, under the supervision of Mrs. Winifred Jecker. This demonstration should appeal to the women of the rural area and will be worth the time. One need not belong to the P.-T. A. to attend these various sessions. Everyone is most cordially invited.

Bring your lunch. Coffee will be furnished.

Sgt. Virgil A. Williams of Campbell was reported as arriving in Boston on the SS Harry W. Beecher.

The county board of supervisors at its meeting Monday accepted the bid of Earl W. Heple for the construction of reinforced concrete abutment, wing wall, retaining wall at the Hamilton avenue bridge near Campbell, in Supervisor Joe McKinnon's District 4.

FRANCES LANGFORD

When George Burns and Gracie Allen left the air for the summer, they agreed not to speak of their radio work again till it came time to prepare for the fall series. Violation of the pact to cost the violator a dollar. George owes Gracie $28, she owes him $18.

After 10 years of starring male names exclusively, "Your Hit Parade" shatters a precedent by starring Joan Edwards, who's been on the program four years. She also gets a big salary boost and a long-term contract. Joan's lucky star (and a lot of good hard work, plus plenty of talent) have put her right on top. She returned home from Hollywood with offers from 20th Century-Fox and Warner Bros.

Glenn Vernon, Robert Clarke and Jim Jordan Jr., have been cast to play inmates of the notorious 18th-century London lunatic asylum Bedlam, in "Chamber of Horrors," at their own request. The canny young men realized that those roles are sure scene-stealers.

Andy Russell not only has a gilt-edged voice, he also has the golden touch, apparently. Recently Andy, who makes his screen debut in "Stork Club," bought a metal plating plant on the Los Angeles East Side, where he was born. Andy promptly got a large government order, as well as some for the civilian market. His brother, Freddy Rabbago, runs the plant for him.

Betty Hutton presented "graduating" members of B. G. DeSylva's "Stork Club" company with war bonds wrapped to resemble diplomas when shooting on the picture was finished. They were distributed from a basket decorated with a stork in cap and gown.

Eddie Bracken's fans came through with more than 150 suggestions for naming the new baby, after it was announced that they'd expected a boy, to be named Michael. Most of the fans suggested "Michelle." But the Brackens settled on Caroline Jean.

Clark Gable and Joan Blondell starred in "The Trolley Song" for a short sequence in Metro's "The Strange Adventure," in which he stars with Greer Garson. When she found that they were also to sing "Old MacDonald Had a Farm," Miss Blondell turned to Director Victor Fleming and demanded "Who are we—Nelson Gable and Jeanette Blondell?" Who knows—maybe this is the beginning of a new singing team.

Connee Boswell, who first became known as a member of the Boswell Sisters, has been signed for an important role in "Swing Parade," the Monogram musical starring Gale Storm and Phil Regan. Among other numbers, Connee will sing "Stormy Weather."

ODDS AND ENDS—Vacationing at Newport beach, Humphrey Bogart tactlessly laughed when the new Mr. Bogart sat down on the rail, slipped, and landed in the water. . . . Anna Lee's first picture since becoming an American citizen is the Boris Karloff "Chamber of Horrors." . . . When he's not acting in Pine-Thomas thrillers Bob Lowery hies him to Laguna beach and dives for abalone. . . . Edward Gargan has played reel cops so frequently that he swears real policemen mistake him for some fellow whose race is familiar, but whose name they can't recall. . . . Gene Krupa to lecture on native African drumming.

SAN FRANCISCO OPERA COMING TO SAN JOSE

The San Francisco Opera Company will pay its second visit to San Jose on Monday evening, Oct. 8, presenting "La Boheme," with seven of the Metropolitan Opera stars. Licia Albanese, Charles Kullman, Ezio Pinza, Nadine Conner, Francesco Valentino, Salvatore Baccaloni and George Cehanovsky will be featured.

'REBECCA' NEXT STAGE PLAY

Daphne du Maurier's stage version of her famous novel, "Rebecca," will have one performance in San Jose on Thursday evening, Sept. 13, with the original New York production and cast, starring Diana Barrymore, Bramwell Fletcher and Ethel Griffies.

Tickets for all events are on sale at the Denny-Watrous box office, San Jose auditorium.

Absorb Moisture

A thick sugar sirup such as is used in cooked icing, fondant and other candies tends to absorb moisture on a damp or rainy day. To offset this, sirup products need to be cooked slightly longer, and boiled icing that turns out too soft may be given a few minutes extra cooking in the upper part of a double boiler. Because honey and molasses also absorb moisture, ginger snaps and wafers made with them should be stored in a tight box or waxed paper bag as soon as they are cool.

Renovate Old Frame

An old discarded picture frame discovered during spring cleaning can be refinished or painted and made an attractive part of the home. One of the many good but inexpensive prints now available or even those from magazines can be put into the frame, or it may be used to frame a mirror. Still another thing that can be done if you need a footstool is to use an old walnut frame, refinish it and attach short legs. Be sure to refinish or paint the frame to harmonize with the background color of the wall or other furnishings where it will be used.

Bracelets have been made of all sorts of substances. Steel bangles were a speciality of Birmingham, England, where shell cases are today's product. The Hungarians forged iron hoops and set them with flat diamonds called "fishkeys," Josiah Wedgewood baked medallions of blue pottery flitting with white nymphs to decorate gold bracelets, and Victorian windows wore miniature of the "dear departed," on wristlets of black enamel.

John Brown in Jail

Abolitionist John Brown led his raid on the national arsenal at Harper's Ferry on Sunday, October 16, 1859, at 10:30 p. m. By Tuesday morning the marines captured the band and Brown was taken to the Charlestown jail. His trial began in Charlestown October 25 and on November 2 he was sentenced to die. At 11:15 a. m. Friday, December 2, 1859, he swung from the gallows.

Transplant in Evening

Plants recover most rapidly if transplanting is done in the evening. If the following day is warm and sunny, the plants should be shaded during the hottest hours. Inverted baskets and newspaper tents may be used for shade, to prevent wilting. As soon as the plants stand up without drooping, remove the covers, as they need the sunlight to grow.

Cause Fires

Government studies show that though farm fires have numerous origins, eight causes are responsible for 85 per cent of the total losses on farms. These include defective chimneys and flues; sparks on combustible roofs; lightning; spontaneous combustion; careless use of matches, smoking; careless use of gasoline and kerosene; defective and improperly installed stoves and furnaces; faulty wiring and misuse of electrical appliances.

Mixed Sprays

If both diseases and chewing insects need to be controlled, as on cucumbers and melons, tomatoes, and potatoes, calcium or lead arsenate is used together with a fixed copper fungicide or with Bordeaux in the same spray. Nicotine (without soap) can be added when aphids are troublesome.

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

A WORLD-WIDE audience and hence a world-wide influence is claimed for the product of the Hollywood studios. There is ample external evidence that this claim is not exaggerated. Indeed, it's only in the last few years that the public has become even dimly aware of how far-reaching the screen's influence really is.

And of course we of the industry itself are the last to learn these things. We can't see the forest for the trees.

Well, there are a few fundamentals that we can't get away from in evaluating the state of the world, present and future.

One of them is that if we're going to go on having wars all of us are going to suffer no matter who wins the victories.

Have you ever stopped to reflect that back in 1917 and 1918, when our country entered upon its first exalted crusade to make the world safe for democracy, nearly all of the present leading stars of motion pictures either were not born or were pretty young? There are some exceptions, of course.

Covering the Globe

Today they are serving the flag on all the far-flung fronts where duty has called them. They are flying airplanes, burrowing into foxholes, helping to man carriers, battle-ships, cruisers, destroyers, submarines. They're accomplishing dangerous missions with cameras, waging the deadly war of propaganda in which our American ideas and ideals are the high explosives.

Where are their children going to be 25 years from today? Our statesmanship of today is America's legacy to its young men and women of tomorrow. Where is it going to lead us?

You might be surprised to realize how many toddlers cooing and gurgling in Hollywood nurseries today have a life and death stake in the answer to those questions.

Bumper Crop

Surprised? When I compiled a list of Hollywood babies born in 1944 and 1945 I was astonished.

I'm not drawing any distinction where babies are concerned, but one can't name them all. This war has taught us that we are really and genuinely a democracy; that our army, navy, and marine corps represent the people and are in very truth the people.

So, from the ranks of our professional artists, here goes:

Alice Faye Harris and her husband, Phil, have two baby girls. Same for Betty Grable and Harry James. Orchestra leaders both, the fathers, and famous, too. Glamour boys. So's Dick Haymes a glamour boy. He and Joanne Marshall Haymes greeted a new baby last summer.

Girls and More Girls

My! Look at the baby girls in my list! Here's Ann Southern with another; the father, Lt. Robert Sterling. Ken Murray comes along with a boy. Good for you, Ken. Martha Raye and Nick Condos had a girl. So did Jean Rogers and Danny Winickler.

And what's this? Nancy Coleman delighted Whitney Bolton's masculine pride by presenting him with twin girls.

Veloz and Yolanda produced a son. Benita Hume and Ronald Colman countered with a daughter.

Here's Ruth Hussey and Lt. Bob Longnecker adding to the female population; also the Eddie Brackens. Donna King and Lt. James Conklin, the Bob Crosbys and the Gregory Pecks relieved the monotony—their babies are boys.

And so we come into 1945. Rita Hayworth and Orson Welles were the first big time Hollywood mamma and papa of the year, and theirs is a girl. Eleanor Powell and Glenn Ford countered with a boy. Maureen O'Sullivan and John Farrow promptly announced a feminine addition to their growing family, but Susan Hayward hit the jackpot with twin boys. Jess Barker's the father. The Jack Carsons added a baby daughter.

Looking Into the Future

What a responsibility rests upon these young Hollywood fathers and mothers of little ones brought into this disturbed world!

We hear on all sides that what the world needs and is crying aloud for is leaders. Leadership. That, I think, no one will deny.

Fathers and mothers of this day, if you don't want to go through a repetition of broken hearts, sorrow, maimed bodies, wrecked minds and nerves a generation from now, better be looking alive right now!

And 'Twas Ever Thus

I asked Gene Fowler how he was coming along with "Goodnight, Sweet Prince." He said, "We're at a complete standstill. I may have to sell the thing after all. Isn't it funny? It's like a man standing on a street corner selling $5 gold pieces for a buck and nobody will buy. I've had fabulous offers for it, but nobody is willing to take it free." He wants all the profits to go to the motion picture relief home. Lana Turner now refuses to do bathing suit pictures for magazines.

Auto Collision Injures Three

Three persons were injured in a broad-side collision at Lincoln and San Carlos Monday and were given treatment at O'Connor sanitarium, according to State Highway Patrol officers.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin T. Ashby, Fillmore, and Edda Shearer of Bakersfield.

The collision occurred when an auto driven by Robert C. Reece, 31, of 27 Hazelwood avenue, Campbell, traveling west on San Carlos street, rammed into the side of the Ashby auto.

Although no citations were issued, it is reported that the accident will be taken before District Attorney Leonard R. villa for a ruling.

Douglas Kline, Rte. 1, Box 185 of Campbell, last week suffered a suspension for 30 days of his gasoline rations on account of speeding.

Mrs. Mae A. Bouchard arrived by airplane from Kansas City, Mo., Tuesday, Aug. 7, to visit her sister, Mrs. H. A. Lessard, of 171 Alice avenue, which is their first get-together in ten years. Mrs. Bouchard was a passenger on the Stratoliner which at times flew at an altitude of 17,000 feet and most of the way above 10,000 feet. It was her first experience in a plane and she is enthusiastic over all its features.

High mass and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament with Thanksgiving will be celebrated at St. Lucy's Catholic church on Sunday, August 19, at the usual hour of 9 a. m.

Canning Sugar Issuance Stopped

In order to conserve critically dwindling supplies, issuance of sugar for home canning purposes was ordered temporarily suspended in six western states at the close of business Aug. 13 in a special order issued by Charles R. Baird, Regional Administrator of the OPA.

The order will affect California, Arizona, Nevada, Oregon, Washington and Northern Idaho. The action was taken to permit the OPA to determine the extent of remaining sugar stocks for home canning purposes.

Baird said the suspension will remain in effect only until the total remaining supply is accounted for and a new maximum allotment for home canners "can be worked out."

During the suspension period, rationing boards will continue to accept applications for home canning sugar, for processing without delay as soon as the new maximum quotas are established.

Mrs. Edwin Parker of Crockett visited her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan and other relatives over the week end.

Russell T. Wolfram, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert L. Wolfram, was graduated recently from an intensive course of radio fundamentals training at the Navy Service Schools at Great Lakes, Ill. Wolfram attended Campbell Union High school, graduating in 1943.

The Navy has announced from Washington that it was no longer recruiting SPARS for service in the Coast Guard.

Blood Donors

The last group of blood donors from Campbell who visited the blood bank Tuesday were Mrs. R. Tollison, Connie Tollison, Opal Blohm, Helen Rice, Nelda Scott, Carol Curtis, Hazel Nelson, Emmy Hild, Stanley Henline, Arnelia McQueen, Clyde C. Hudson, Marie E. Carmen, John Clemens, Melba McCord, Elizabeth Peterson, Beverly Suess, Robert DeBold, Bertha Jensen.

Capt. and Mrs. W. A. Craddock spent a recent week end with Mr. and Mrs. Martin S. Walsh, North Harrison avenue. Capt. Craddock, son-in-law of the Walshes is stationed at Mare Island.

Pfc. Hunter Wins Silver Star

With the 37th Infantry Division on Luzon—For showing outstanding gallantry in action, Private First Class Walter F. Hunter of Campbell, has been awarded the Silver Star. Infantryman Hunter, son of Mrs. Lena Hunter of Campbell, was among the first American troops to invade Luzon, and liberate Manila.

The citation accompanying the award reads: "During the campaign in northern Luzon, the advance of two infantry platoons against an enemy held hill was halted by three hostile machine guns. Private Hunter and a fellow G. I. voluntarily crept around to the reverse side of the slope, fully exposed to enemy fire, to attack the single gun. They gained the top and killed that gun's crew members. Then they manned the intact Japanese machine gun and directed its fire against the other two hostile positions. So accurate and consistent was their fire, that the remaining enemy positions were neutralized, and their company's mission was successfully accomplished."

A veteran of more than 22 months overseas service in the South Pacific, Hunter previously saw action as a jungle fighter on Bougainville, in the Solomons, and has served on New Caledonia and Guadalcanal. In addition to the Silver Star, he wears the Purple Heart for wounds received in action on Luzon, the Combat Infantryman Badge for exemplary service in action, and the Asiatic-Pacific campaign ribbon with two Battle Stars.

It's Muh-zur-uh!

About three out of four Missourians today favor "muh-zur-uh" as the pronunciation of their state's name, but the fourth preferring "muh-zur-i" regards it as socially superior. The "i" pronunciation is stronger in St. Louis than in Kansas City.

Winter Driving

Lower visibility and poorer traction make lower speeds necessary in winter than in other seasons of the year. On ice and packed snow even 25 miles an hour is too fast for safety. Stopping distances may be three to eleven times those on dry concrete pavement.

FOR SALE—Man's bicycle, good condition. 1 Muscovy drake and 2 hens. Call after 6 p. m., 75 N. First St., Campbell

WANTED—Small cabin and lot in or near Campbell. H. A. Shine, 621 San Bonita Ave., Los Gatos.

HOT WATER?
all over the house!

In your bathroom there is more than tub, shower and washbasin use of Hot Water. Floors and walls are kept sweet and clean with Hot Water cleaning. There are medicaments too—hot compresses, poultices, gargles and the comforting hot water bottle.

Yes, most everything in your home you touch, has been made spic and span and sanitary—with Hot Water. Home-laundered clothing, curtains or drapes, painted woodwork—with all of these Hot Water has been at work—saving you work.

In the kitchen, Hot Water speeds food preparation, cooking and makes soap more sudsy for cleaning dishes, pots, pans, floors and walls.

All this Hot Water used in your home—thousands of gallons of it per year—comes from your dependable water heater. Keep it dependable—drain your water heater tank several times a year. It is easy to do. However, if your present water heater is worn out and cannot be repaired you can now buy a good, pre-war quality Automatic Water Heater.
